All,

Here is a draft letter for the Navy on the Monitoring Well Installation Plan Addendum. Please review and comment as necessary.

In one of my conversations with Ron, he suggested the Navy may want to retain the existing RHMW01 rather than abandoning it, allowing for some comparison of data with the new RHMW01R. I mention in the main body of the letter that we believe the Navy should retain the existing well but I did not discuss in the comment attachment because I could not recall all of the reasons. Ron can you remind us of the reasoning again, at the time I thought it made sense and I would like to include it in our comments.

If possible please provide feedback so that this letter can go out by COB on Monday January 30.

Bob
